CATHAY PACIFIC

Dear Doctor

This passenger has chosen to fly with Cathay Pacific or on an interline ticket associated with a Cathay

Pacific flight.

At the time of the booking inquiry, the information provided to our Reservations office has prompted us to ask this passenger to complete our Passenger Medical Clearance (MEDA) Form. Part 1 of the form should be completed by the passenger. The attending doctor should complete Part 2 in English. If the passenger suffers from any of the following - cardiac, pulmonary, psychiatric conditions, seizures, fractures, peanut or other tree nut allergies, you are also requested to complete the relevant section of Part 3.

This form is intended to provide information to enable the airline's Medical Department to assess the fitness of the passenger to travel. If the passenger is accepted, this information will permit the issuance of the necessary directives designed to provide for the passenger's welfare and comfort.

When completing the form please keep in mind that air travel has some unique features which must be considered to ensure a safe and comfortable flight. The principle factors to consider when assessing a passenger's fitness for air travel are:

Reduced atmospheric pressure: Cabin air pressure changes occur after take-off and before landing and lead to gas expansion and contraction which may cause pain and pressure effects.

• Reduction in oxygen tension: The aircraft cabin is pressurised to an equivalent of 6,000-8,000 feet and oxygen partial pressure is approximately 20% less than on ground. Healthy passengers have no problems at these altitudes, but passengers with anaemia or heart and lung conditions may be at risk and require supplemental oxygen during air travel.

Inaccessibility to advanced medical care: The aircraft cabin is a closed environment where access to advanced medical care may not be possible for several hours. Our cabin crew is trained in basic first aid and we do carry medical kits and heart defibrillators on board, but advanced medical care onboard is not possible. If a passenger has a medical condition that carry a high risk of requiring extraordinary medical assistance in flight they may not be accepted for air travel.

The following medical conditions generally do not require medical clearance providing they are stable and no special assistance is required:

Diabetes Mellitus

· High blood pressure or high cholesterol

Arthritis

Joint replacement or amputations

Artificial limbs

Sleep apnea requiring the use of a CPAP or BIPAP (If intending to use CPAP or BIPAP inflight, please notify Cathay Pacific Local Reservations a minimum of 48 hours prior to departure)

More information on the special conditions associated with air travel and the specific restrictions for certain medical conditions is available on the Aerospace Medical Association's website at this link Medical Considerations for Airline Travel.

Once the MEDA Form has been completed, it should be returned to the Cathay Pacific local Reservations office. It is important that Cathay Pacific receives the completed MEDA Form no later than 48 hours prior to the passenger's scheduled departure date. Please note: for all requests of inflight medical oxygen or non-peanut or other tree nut containing cocktail snacks, we recommend that the completed MEDA form be submitted 72 hours prior to your scheduled flight departure time.

Any costs associated with this assessment and completion of the form is at the passenger's expense.

If you wish to discuss the case further with our Company Aviation Medical team, please contact your local Cathay Pacific Reservations office as soon as possible.

Thank you for your cooperation.
